Intelligence powers success

How to mitigate business risks and threats

To mitigate risks and defend against threats, an organization must understand its adversaries and operation environment in detail while at the same time preventing others from learning about its own intentions and capabilities. This creates the strategic intelligence gap and provides you with a significant and sustainable strategic advantage.

Voice of the Customers

„Udo is a very customer-oriented business partner. He goes the extra mile to get the job done and to serve his clients. Udo helped my teams by bringing a strong outside market understanding to our existing knowledge, and he enriched our analysis and recommendations with his expertise. I'm looking forward to upcoming projects together with INFO + DATEN. High quality combined with high reliability is a great selling proposition for Udo and his company." (Fortune 1000 company in the IT industry)

„What makes all the difference when it comes down to intelligence performance? A global understanding of the real core intelligence procedure, a comprehensive skill set, proven first-hand experience, an international network, and last but not least a forceful personality. Indeed, this is my subjective view - but simply put: Udo is all that." (International medium-sized company in Manufacturing)

„I have worked with Udo and INFO + DATEN for several years now. My experience has been extremely positive; Udo and his company have provided high quality work across the board, something which is rare to find. Udo is honest, reliable and very results-oriented." (Fortune 1000 company in the High Tech arena)
